Lenten Stewardship

I know what you're thinking didn't we just finish passing a budget and why are you talking about Stewardship in Lent? Stewardship is so much more than a number we place on a pledge card. Many people unknowingly examine one part of Stewardship during Lent.

Stewardship is what we do with everything God has given us.

Our time - Have you committed to reading an extra devotion, reading a part of the Bible, or increasing your prayer life during Lent? You are increasing your stewardship of time by giving a little bit more of your time to following God.

Our bodies - Many people choose to change their diet or fast during Lent. You are using your bodies to remember to seek God. Many of the Old Testament/Hebrew Bible laws were designed to help followers to remember God in all aspects of their life including eating and cleaning.

Our buildings - Even caring for the church buildings is being good stewards since we are ensuring that the gift we have been given through our property can be used by God's people both today and in the future.

The other aspect about Stewardship is that we are not the same and are each called to use what we have for God. For some they can use their bodies to help keep our gardens and parish clean. Others can use their gift of time to write letters or make phone calls to those who are having a tough time in life. Some are gifted with the ability to write devotions or encouragement to draw others to God, while still others are called to spend extra time in prayer for our community. Some can march, others can call, and still others can pray or write.

The important part about Stewardship is not that you give the same or in the same way as others, but that you give to God your unique gifts and abilities.

What are you doing this Lent to be a good steward? Together let us encourage one another to use our gifts for God!

~~ Blessings
Pastor Heather

Work Day #2

March 24 - 9:00 a.m. to 12:00 p.m.

General Spring Cleaning of the Church and campus
prior to Holy Week and Easter

Mahalo Nui Loa

- ♥ To all who made the Shrove Sunday Pancake Breakfast (aka “Fat Sunday”) that the Family Ministries hosted a success: to the Frank and Harper families who set-up, cooked, and served for the 7:30 am Congregation; to the Chapman, Haworth, and Lino families who reset, cooked, and served for the 10:15 am Congregation; to Beth Fincke for shopping for groceries and chopping a mountain of fresh pineapple; to Terry Ledford for sharing all of his electric skillets; to Tanner Haworth, Pamela Lino, and Gail and Scott Suzuki-Jones for clean-up; and to everyone in both Congregations who generously stuffed the calabash.
- ♥ To Sexton Stan Ornellas and Stan’s assistant Shay Oyadomari who set up the Parish House as a temporary worship space while the church building was being tented for termite fumigation.
- ♥ To Jose Henao who has graciously agreed to serve as the Clerk of the Vestry.
- ♥ To Beth Fincke, Pam Fern, and Adrienne Lau (with the help of Stan and Shay) for schlepping all the items that are needed for worship (choir chairs and stands, candles and candle holders, cross, communion ware, etc) from the church to the parish hall before the tenting and back again after.
- ♥ To the dedicated volunteers — Stan Ornellas, Mary and Andrew Carpenter, Sandy Souza, Cecilia Fordham, Terry Ledford, Pam Fern, Susan Palmore, and Liz Baldwin — who washed and wiped down the church on a special Parish Work Day following the fumigation to prepare it for the return of St. Clement’s parishioners and St. Clement’s School students.

Property Committee Updates

As you undoubtedly read in the Junior Warden’s report in the 2017 Annual Report, two big projects are coming up this year - the painting and the reroofing of the church.

Painting. The painting contract is pending the results of lead testing of the existing paint and the level of treatment that may be needed. Painting alone is estimated to be $40,000 to $45,000; lead abatement could add as much as $50,000 to that amount. Regardless, current plans call for the painting to be completed before the roofing can be done.

Roofing. After reviewing several proposals, St. Clement’s has contracted with On Top Roofing to remove and replace the roofing tiles and to install new rain gutters. The total cost of this contract is about $207,000.

Schedule. The estimated schedule for the work is:

Date (estim.)	Task	Notes
March 19 to March 30	Painting of the church, including lead abatement	Spring break for St. Clement’s School
June 1 to June 17	Removal of the old roof	Summer break for St. Clement’s School
July 30 to August 13	Continued Installation of the new roof	Summer break for St. Clement’s School

How Can You Help Restore Our Church?

As Mary Carpenter noted at the annual meeting when reporting on the up-coming repainting and reroofing of the church, you are invited to make a special donation toward these important projects. Although we currently have the funds in our Capital Improvement account, the costs mentioned in Arthur’s article to the left will significantly deplete our reserves. So if you would like to help purchase a gallon or two of paint or a row of shingles, please make your check payable to St. Clement’s and put “Capital Improvement” on the memo line.

We want to say a special mahalo to Nellie McLaughlin and Annette Jim who have already donated to these projects and to Ginny LaPierre who has pledged to sponsor the two roof-top crosses.

We will continue to recognize those who have given gifts to maintain our beloved church in the monthly newsletter. Will we add your name to the list?

Oh, Those Nasty Little Bugs

After locating live termites in the church, fumigation became necessary. In order that it be done when there were no children around, the church was tented over the Presidents Day weekend. The project involved the tenting of course, but also moving worship to the Parish Hall and cleaning of all the surfaces in the church the following Saturday. Be sure to check out the Mahalos on page 3 for the names of some of the people who helped make all this work. Shown below and on the next page are pictures from that process. As they say in the theatre, the show must go on. (Photos of the tented church by Andrew Carpenter.)

Worship Services in the Parish Hall

The termite fumigation in the church necessitated temporarily moving church services as well as St. Clement's School's chapel services to the Vi and Paul Loo Parish House. Photos by Liz Baldwin.

Baptism, Confirmation, Reaffirmation, and Reception

Interested in Baptism? Please speak with Pastor Heather if you or a family member is interested in baptism. Sunday, May 20 is Pentecost, a traditional day to celebrate baptism and the coming of the Holy Spirit.

Confirmation/reaffirmation/reception This spring there will be an opportunity to be confirmed by the Bishop. This is also a time for those who were confirmed in another denomination to be received into the Episcopal Church or to reaffirm your commitments made at confirmation. Please speak with Pastor Heather if you are interested in any of these sacramental rites. (Youth interested may also speak with Uncle Scott Suzuki-Jones.)

Was Martha of Bethany Added to the Fourth Gospel in the Second Century?

Sunday, March 25

Elizabeth Schrader will be at St. Clement's to speak about her latest research on early Christian manuscripts.

There will be two opportunities to hear her speak that day. Come to one or both and invite others who may be interested!

8:45-9:45am Introduction to Manuscripts

12:00pm Changes made in early manuscripts in John 11 (Lazarus rising from the dead). This is the subject of her recent article published in the Harvard Theological Review. (The article is available at <http://cambridge.org/ElizabethSchrader>)

Elizabeth argues that there is a major corruption in the text of the Gospel of John, in the story of Lazarus being raised from the dead. This argument is based on changes that are made to the oldest existing copy of John 11 (Papyrus 66), but there are traces of similar changes made throughout the gospel's manuscript transmission.

A "bio" on Elizabeth Shrader can be found at http://www.oregonlive.com/music/index.ssf/2017/08/libbie_schrader_singer_songwriter_theologian.html

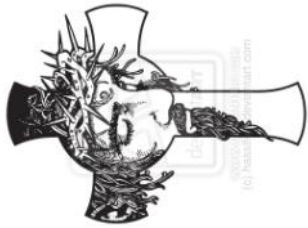

Elizabeth "Libbie" Schrader is currently a doctoral candidate at Boston University's School of Theology. She is also a Portland-raised singer-songwriter

Adult Discussion March 4, 11, and 18

Sundays at 8:45 am in the Parish Hall on March 4, 11, and 18 the Adult Discussion Group will be reading and discussing 40-Day Journey with Maya Angelou. Everyone is welcome to join our discussion - the passages are short, so come even if you have not read them. We will review them together.

A View from the Pew

*“Remember the Sabbath and keep it Holy.
Six days you shall labor and do all your work,
but the Seventh Day is the Sabbath of the LORD.”*

Moses / Exodus 20:8-10

“A well regulated Militia, being necessary to the security of a free State, the right of the people to keep and bear Arms, shall not be infringed.”

The 2nd Amendment / The Constitution

Much like the 2nd Amendment of the United States Constitution regarding our right to bear firearms, the 4th Commandment of The Law, that we keep Holy a Sabbath to the Lord, has been effectively hijacked and usurped by vain and self-serving forces in our society. Sound crazy? Think again.

Both the 4th Commandment and the 2nd Amendment are about freedom. In the Constitution, the 2nd Amendment is clearly addressing the need for a “well regulated Militia.” By stating unequivocally it is “necessary to the security of a free State,” the 2nd Amendment is not only talking about the original 13 States of the United States of America, it is also talking about Militias formed, armed, and commanded under the auspices of those States, as well as the other 37 States that exist today, not private militias which serve special interests. Further, by stating that “the right of the people to keep and bear Arms, shall not be infringed,” this very same singular sentence of the 2nd Amendment is clearly stating that the people, as represented by the States in which they live, have not just the right to arm their Militias, but to serve in their Militias, and to bear the arms of their Militias when the security of their States are threatened.

Think. We had just achieved independence in an armed conflict with arguably the most powerful nation in the world, Great Britain. At the time of the writing of our Constitution in 1789, Britain was already planning to take back “the Colonies” as exemplified in the subsequent War of 1812. Private ownership of firearms for the purposes of personal defense and hunting was a given in that day and age, and as a result was never addressed in the 2nd Amendment or any other amendment of our Constitution. In fact, the British, when in control of the Colonies before our Revolutionary War, never once banned the personal ownership of weapons, but they certainly did ban colonial militias and the armories that would have necessarily come with them. In other words, anyone who has studied high school English Grammar and US History ought to know that the 2nd Amendment has nothing to do, whatsoever, with the private ownership of firearms, whether for target shooting, hunting, or personal defense, and it has everything to do with Militias, under the auspices of the States, having the right to not only keep arms in their armories, but for their Militia members to bear those arms when the freedom of their States are threatened. All interpretations to the contrary are inaccurate, if not fabrications, and they now threaten not only the lives of our children, not to mention the rest us, but the very foundation of our Declaration of Independence which boldly declares:

*“We hold these Truths to be self-evident, that all Men are created equal,
that they are endowed by their Creator with certain unalienable Rights, that among these are Life, Liberty, and the Pursuit of Happiness.”*

In the same vein, in Deuteronomy we learn that God did not give us the 4th Commandment, a Sabbath, just so we could worship God. God does not need our worship to exist or to continue to exist, or to maintain or increase God’s power, or to be or remain essential. Instead, God gave us the Sabbath to remind us that we were once slaves, literally in terms of base servitude to slave masters, figuratively in terms of sin and Satan, and that it was and is only through God that we were liberated and are free. The Ten Plagues that God beset upon Egypt, whether real, metaphor, or allegory, tell us it is only through God’s inspiration, guidance, and leadership that we can escape slavery in body, mind, and spirit, and thus become and stay free. Hence the Sabbath where, as opposed to “rest” from, we literally “cease” and “desist” from what we do the other six days and, on the Seventh Day, come together to give thanks to God for our freedom, to commune with one another in God’s Name, and as a result commune with God’s very Self. The 4th Commandment is nothing if not revolutionary. It is our declaration of spiritual independence.

So how do we give thanks some 3500 years later? If we are not working, we are studying. When not studying, we are sleeping. Should we not be sleeping, we are practicing. If not practicing, we are competing or performing. When not competing or performing, we are recreating. If we feel guilty about recreating, we do community service. The commutations are as infinite as binary operations in Mathematics and Computer Science. Virtually all of our waking hours have been seized and are now commanded by the work we do, the classes we take, the sports we compete in, the arts in which we create and perform, and even by our recreation and our community service. We have again become slaves, but now to employers, teachers, coaches, instructors, trainers, buddies, and community service organizers who are not satisfied with just six days, but demand all seven. What is worse, it is we who have let them take our Seventh Day, whichever day it is we make our Sabbath. We do it all in the name of getting ahead and staying ahead personally, educationally, athletically, artistically, recreationally, vocationally, professionally, and of course financially. We do it while knowing that, in the end, in this existential, human, earthly, corporeal experience, it will amount to nothing, absolutely nothing, unless God is the flax with which our lives are woven together into one holy linen. We must take back the Sabbath. It is ours.

“And He said unto them, the Sabbath was made for Man, not Man for the Sabbath. Therefore the Son of Man is also the Lord of the Sabbath.”

Jesus / Mark 2:27-28
